PRINTING, MAILING & STANDARD AD DESIGN INCLUDED

One ad concept using your logo and photos, with a headline, offer and call to action; two revision rounds and your final proof approval. Logos, extra revisions, websites and ongoing digital campaign management are quoted separately.

READ BEFORE PAYMENT

Before design begins, advertiser cancellation means a full refund. After design begins but before actual printer commitment, we keep only the $99 deposit and refund any paid balance. Only after both final proof approval and actual printer commitment is payment nonrefundable for a change of mind.

If we cancel the edition or cannot meet the agreed mailing window, we refund everything, even after design or printer commitment.

Booking details

Before the $99 deposit, we confirm the edition, ad placement, mailing quantity, total price, balance deadline, mailing window and full-card deadline in writing.

Deposit

The $99 deposit counts toward the total price. It is refundable until custom design work begins. If the advertiser cancels after design begins, we retain the $99 deposit. This does not automatically make the unpaid balance due.

Design start

We notify the advertiser before starting custom layout or artwork. Receiving a logo or completing an intake form alone does not count as starting design.

Printing

We do not send the card to print until the agreed full-card requirement is met, every participating advertiser has approved the final proof in writing, and all required balances are paid.

Unfilled or canceled edition

If the card is not filled by the agreed deadline, we cancel and refund all amounts paid unless the advertiser agrees in writing to revised terms. If we cancel the edition or cannot meet the agreed mailing window, all amounts paid are refunded, including the deposit even if design has started.

Advertiser cancellation and paid balances

Before custom design begins, we refund all amounts paid if the advertiser cancels. After design begins but before actual printer commitment, we retain only the $99 deposit and refund any paid balance. Only after both the advertiser's final proof approval and actual printer commitment is payment nonrefundable for the advertiser's change of mind. Proof approval alone is not printer commitment. If we cancel the edition or cannot meet the agreed mailing window, we refund all amounts paid, including after design or printer commitment.

> The full-card deadline and the requirement for a filled card must be agreed for each booking before payment. No default calendar deadline is set by this policy.
> We keep the advertiser's written final proof approval and the actual printer commitment as separate records.
